

TABERNACLE CHOIR THRILLS THE VAST THROUG AT EASTER SERVICE IN TABERNACLE, SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Theo Dubois, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," was presented by the tabernacle choir under direction of Prof. Joseph Ballantyne at the Easter services. The theme was interpreted by Apostle David O. McKay.

Yesterday afternoon, long before the hour of commencing. All available space in the tabernacle was filled by people eager to hear the finest Easter service ever given in that building.

Judge George S. Barker, of the tabernacle committee, was in charge of the meeting. On the platform with him were President Louis W. Shurtliff, of the Weber stake, President James W. Wetherston, of the North Weber stake, Apostle David O. McKay, James W. McMullen of Salt Lake City, Rev. Christian Garver and many others prominent in church affairs.

By special request of Elder McKay, the choir and congregation sang "God Moves in a Mysterious Way." The prayer was offered by President Wetherston.

What might be termed a "prologue" to the great oratorio, "O, All Ye Who Travel Upon the Highway," was very effectively rendered by Mrs. Myrtle B. Higley.

Elder McKay chose as his text for his interpretation of the theme of the oratorio, "They have taken the Lord away and I know not where they have laid Him." In part, he said:

"Never before in the history of the world, since the memorable discovery of the empty tomb, has the world celebrated the anniversary of the resurrection of Christ under more critical circumstances than we celebrate it today, when the armies of the world are fighting to determine whether selfishness and brute force, or self-sacrifice and service, are to be the elements that will rule the world. This is not a war of nation against nation, nor of peoples against peoples, but a war of ideals against ideals."

Quoting from speeches of German statesmen and then from American statesmen, Elder McKay brought out in vivid contrast the ideals which have been, and now are, the inspiration of these two nations. "Surely," he continued, "the German people have laid away the Christ and know not where to find Him."

Of the oratorio, Elder McKay said, "I believe there was never a composition written in which the music is so beautiful and so expressively adapted to the text as that of Theo. Dubois."

He then related briefly the events of Christ's last days on earth and His Crucifixion, and called the attention of the audience to the various solos and choruses in the composition which so beautifully describes these dramatic events.

The soloists, Mrs. Myrtle B. Higley, Mrs. Agnes Warner, Miss Vera Jones, Mr. William S. Wright and the chorus of two hundred voices then rendered the various numbers of the oratorio. Mr. Wright's rich baritone voice was especially effective in the solo, "Father, Forgive Them, for They Know Not What They Do." In marked contrast to the spirit of the "first word" was the chorus which follows, "He is Dead, Guilty," which was sung in splendid style by the choir. This is followed by the second word, "Verily, Thou Shalt Be in Paradise Today With Me."

The most appealing and exquisite number of the composition is probably the duet and chorus, "Hear Me, Oh Lord," sung by Mrs. Higley, Mr. Wright and the choir. No more effective appeal has ever been made, either in verse or music.

The other "four words" following in the order were all sung in an equally effective manner. Mrs. Higley's clear, bell-like tones and her charming interpretation of each of her arias thrilled the entire audience. Mrs. Warner and Miss Jones handled the minor solo parts in a very commendable manner. Mr. Wright's splendid baritone voice seemed to be especially adapted to the interpretation of his solos.

The choir, under the able direction of Prof. Ballantyne, showed the results of weeks of careful training. The attack, release, and general response to the spirit of the theme was an expression of very careful training.

Mr. Sam F. Whitaker's handling of the difficult work on the big organ showed beyond question his mastery of the instrument. His rendition of the "earthquake and storm" scene was unusually thrilling.

It is estimated that there were 1400 people crowded into the building, and even those standing in the doorways remained until the closing prayer, which was offered by Patriarch George Larkin.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH EASTER SUNDAY SERVICES

Easter services at St. Joseph's church were very beautiful and impressive, beginning with first mass at 6 o'clock, with music by the boys of the Holy Name Sodality, under the direction of their able instructor Sister M. Noretta; their clear young voices ringing in the joyous Easter tidings that "Christ is Risen." Miss Margery Mullen was organist.

Second mass was at 7 a. m. and third at 8:30, with the choir consisting of the girls of the Children of Mary Sodality, singing and Miss Kathryn Shuffelberg presiding at the organ. The solemn high mass at 10:30, under the direction of Mrs. S. P. Dobbs, Miss Cecil Ragon, organist, was the most beautiful heard in years. The leading soloists were Mrs. J. Fisher, Mrs. S. P. Dobbs, Mrs. W. Smyth, Miss A. O'Neill, Miss M. Dermody, Miss G. Smyth, Miss B. Ahearn, Miss G. McNulty, Mrs. R. Morrissey, Mr. J. Junk, Mr. J. Fisher and Mr. A. Spillman. The vocal creation by the latter was beautifully sung, and appreciated.

Mrs. Walter Smyth rendered the O'Saltaris during the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Her clear soprano was never more beautiful and she, along with the other members of the choir, received many compliments after the services from their appreciative friends.

The Benediction closed the ceremonies for the day with prayers for his holiness, the Pope's intention. The papal blessing was given by the Rev. Father McMullen, thereby closing a most successful mission which had been conducted during the closing weeks of Lent.

Poor physical development brought rejection from the quartermaster's corps of the United States regular army today for Leslie Mann of Copeland, Cal. He tried to enlist at the local station but lacked a few inches of the required chest measurement and weight.

With disappointment written all over his face, he quietly remarked, "Well, I guess that's all I can do."

"This little drama is not very common," said Serg. George F. Smith, in charge of the station, "but it carries a lot of significance. When a man is eager to go and do his bit but is held off because of some reason for which he probably is not responsible, it is just a little disappointing."

Mann was advised to apply for a waiver to Washington or for some special branch where he could serve successfully.

Harlan J. Robinson, of Montpelier, Idaho, was sent to Fort Douglas today by Serg. Smith. He enlisted in the quartermaster's corps.

CONFERENCE RATES ON THE UTAH-IDAHO

Conference rates going into effect from points on the Utah-Idaho Central railroad, April 2, will continue to include April 7, with return limit April 15.

For this occasion the Utah-Idaho Central railroad will operate special trains on April 5 and 6, leaving Pres. Ogden, Idaho, at 5:10 a. m., arriving Ogden 8:50 a. m., arriving Salt Lake City 9:55 a. m. Also, a special train of same dates from Dewey, leaving that point at 6:50 a. m., Brigham 7:20 a. m., arriving Ogden 8:10 a. m., leaving Ogden 8:15 a. m., arriving Salt Lake City 9:30 a. m.

There will also be operated on Sunday, April 7, a return special from Salt Lake City to Cache Valley points, leaving Salt Lake City at 5:30 p. m., from Salt Lake City through to Preston, Idaho.

For the Huntsville people we have arranged to have the first car leave Huntsville at 7:10 a. m., arriving in Ogden to connect with the 8:15 Bamberger train for Salt Lake City. This train will operate on Sunday, April 7, and the special car returning from Ogden to Huntsville will leave the interurban terminal at 11 p. m., Sunday, April 7.

Deaths and Funerals

WELCH—The funeral of George Welch was held yesterday afternoon in the Taylor ward meeting house with Bishop W. H. Jardine officiating. The speakers were Patriarch Nathan Hawks and Patriarch Levi J. Taylor. Albert Green, William Hadley, James Hunter and Bishop Jardine. The musical program was as follows: The ward choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Farewell All Earthly Honors." George A. Hunter sang "Oh, My Father," Stephen and Lida Hadley sang "Consolation." Interment was in West Weber cemetery. The grave was dedicated by C. J. A. Lindquist.

SHEEP GIVE BIRTH TO LAMBS FATHERED BY DEER

A fine Easter program was given last night at the Lynne ward, George S. Barker being the principal speaker. The service was given under the auspices of the Y. M. and Y. L. M. I. A. of the ward and began at 7 o'clock.

The chief feature of the service was the presentation of a service flag by the ladies of the ward. The flag was made by hand by the ladies and has 32 stars in it, that number of the young members of the ward having answered the call to the colors. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Withers, who spoke of the fine response to the national plea that the ward had made, both in sending the young men to fight in the ranks and in doing the other work necessary to a successful prosecution of the war.

The response was given Bishop's Counsellor Malan.

YOUNG BOY IS SHOT AND TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Elliott Blackburn, 13-year-old son of William J. Blackburn of West Ogden, was accidentally shot in the right hip yesterday morning while playing with a gun with whom he was playing in the vicinity of the sugar factory.

The boy was taken to the Dee hospital for treatment where the X-ray was employed in locating the bullet which lodged against the bone of the leg.

MILD SENSATION IN POLICE COURT

A mild sensation was sprung in the municipal court this morning when the case was called of the city against John Van Woerkom, who was arrested on complaint of his neighbor, Patrick J. Powers, following a fight over some pasture land which both claimed to have rented.

The case was called in the court last week, but the court did not render a decision at the conclusion of the trial, Judge George S. Barker stating that he wanted to see the premises. Attorney N. J. Harris, who was retained by the defendants, made a motion late last week to have the case reopened on the ground that two of the witnesses who had testified for the prosecution would state that at least one of them had been approached by Mr. Powers and offered money to testify to certain things.

The court heard the testimony this morning and again delayed finding a decision. Arthur Wilson, a boy about 15 years of age, was called to the witness stand and asked to tell what had taken place. He said that Mr. Powers had asked him to testify for him the next day and to tell the court that he had seen the younger

NEW DEPUTIES IN THE OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK RAMEY

The position of chief deputy county clerk resigned by Alex Fife several days ago, has been filled by Deputy Wilford Young at the court house. Deputy Young was formerly clerk of Judge A. E. Pratt's division of the district court.

The position of court clerk has been filled by Attorney Dan E. Sullivan, a well-known young Ogden man. The appointments of Mr. Young and Mr. Sullivan were ratified this morning by the board of county commissioners. Mr. Sullivan will also act as a deputy clerk in Charles M. Ramey's office. He will probably resign his position as clerk of the juvenile court.

LIQUOR CASE GOES TO SUPREME COURT OF THE LAND

According to action taken today in the case of the State versus Otto Meek, in which a large quantity of liquor that was taken from the premises of the Ogden Sales company last fall is involved and in which the state supreme court recently made a decision sustaining the new prohibition law in its entirety, the supreme court of the United States shall have the final say.

The attorneys for the defense have served notice of intention to appeal to the federal court and today served notice on Chief of Police Browning not to destroy the liquor. They also had an order of the supreme court directing the officers to keep the liquor, pending settlement of the case.

While it was believed the case would not go higher than the state courts, the carrying of it to the highest tribunal in the land will attract considerable attention and the decision of that body will settle the question of the constitutionality of the Utah prohibition statute for all time to come.

EASTER PROGRAM AT LYNNE WARD

A fine Easter program was given last night at the Lynne ward, George S. Barker being the principal speaker. The service was given under the auspices of the Y. M. and Y. L. M. I. A. of the ward and began at 7 o'clock.

GOVERNOR TOURING IN MIDDLE STATES

Governor Simon Bamberger, who is touring the middle states with his wife, on a speaking trip, has been given warm receptions in many large cities he has visited, according to Julian Bamberger, who is in Ogden today. The governor is speaking on the "Liberty Loan and Utah" and doing much to offset the unfavorable anti-Utah propaganda spread by Frank Cannon.

His itinerary this week includes visits at Dayton, Cincinnati, Hamilton Van Woerkom knock Mr. Powers down, and that, if he would so testify, Mr. Powers would pay him well.

Mr. Van Woerkom testified that on one occasion Mr. Powers threatened to put him in jail, if it cost him $5,000. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the boy, also testified, but did not add materially to the testimony given by her son. Attorney Harris intimated that the boy had told him a different story, but could not bring a confession from him while on the witness stand.

GERMAN TROOPS STRIKE MIGHTY BLOW

The generals "to think in the offensive." It says their forces are ample to regain the initiative after the German effort is frustrated. By calling up all the men of military age and raising the age limit, England can have an additional million men by autumn, it says, and adds:

"With the gathering forces of the United States there should not be less than two million new troops available for warfare in the autumn."

The statement follows: "The enemy twice attacked our positions in the outskirts of Albert yesterday evening. Both attacks were repulsed."

"South of the Somme the enemy is persisting in his attempts to advance along the valleys of the rivers Luce and Avre, but has made little progress. Attacks and counter-attacks followed each other in this sector throughout yesterday afternoon and evening with varying success and the fighting is expected to continue."

The German assaults show signs of slackening both in number and intensity and the Germans are digging themselves in feverishly around Lassigny on the southern line of the salient where French pressure has been heavy. South of the Somme, the tide turned Sunday. German assaults were repulsed, and the French made good gains.

The German peace drive toward Amiens, Paris and the channel ports is fast becoming a battle of the nations. The conflict opened with British and German soldiers the adversaries. Since then the French and American armies have joined with Field Marshal Haig's forces, while Austrian and Bulgarian forces are aiding the enemy. Canadian cavalry and Australian infantry have been doing much of the fighting under the British flag in the last two days.

100,000 Seasoned U. S. Troops.
Over the roads to the battlefields in motor trucks and on foot, 100,000 American soldiers are moving to join the fight against the invaders and to drive him back. The American troops are now under control of General Foch, the generalissimo, but their destination in the fighting area has not been disclosed. They are seasoned troops and are reported as anxious to get into the fight.

The most intense fighting is progressing south of the Somme where after attempt is being made by the Germans to break the indomitable defense of the allies and to reach the Amiens-Paris railway line or to reach Amiens itself.

Battle Changes Four Times.
Unable to make gains astride the Somme, the enemy has made heavy attacks at other points but with no success. Moreuil, the center of the fighting south of the Somme, is reported to have changed hands four times and is now held by British, Canadian and French troops.

Around Montdidier where the battle line curves northward the French have reclaimed Ayvourt and Montchell. Further east toward Lassigny in the direction of Noyon the Germans have been pressed back and a salient driven into the enemy lines. It is in this region that the Germans are now digging in. German attempts to force a passage of the Oise at Chauny were crushed by the French who wiped out an enemy force which tried to establish a bridgehead on the southern bank of the river.

North of the Somme, where the Germans were thrown back with severe losses by the British Saturday, the enemy made no further attempts Sunday and the fighting activity has been moderate.
